

Electricity first came to Taos in 1928, just as the Fechin House was being renovated. Nicolai Fechin designed the lanterns seen throughout the house and worked with a local metalsmith to create them. We've left room on this page for you to design your own lantern!

